"The truth can only be established on the basis of documents": general P.N. Vrangel’s archive and the study of the history of the White movement in the south of Russia

Annotation

Based on previously unknown documents, the article looks at the history of General P.N. Vrangel’s personal archive. Main attention is paid to its creation and transfer to the Hoover institution of war, revolution and peace in 1929. The conclusion is made that N.M. Kotlyarevsky, General Vrangel’ secretary, played the decisive role in the creation of the archive. Its documents still keep in secret the details of the key events of the history of the White movement in the South of Russia.
