

Scientific article

УДК 94(47)+ 94(477)+930.253

DOI 10.28995/2073-0101-2022-1-164-185

Morozova, Olga M.

Don State Technical University, Rostov-on-Don, Russian Federation

At the Head of the Black Banner Army: Marusya Nikiforova in 1917–18

Abstract

The article presents the author's search for and systematization of miscellaneous materials on campaign record of the Marusya Nikiforova' unit on the territories of the Kherson and Yekateroslav gubernias and the Province of the Don Cossack Host. The name of Maria Grigorievna Nikiforova is inextricably linked with the history of Russian anarchism; her activities still serve as an illustration of the events of the Civil War in Russia. The article uses information from memoirs of the participants in revolutionary events written in the 1920s. It establishes main points in detachment's movement through the cities and towns of the South of Russia from autumn 1917 to summer 1918. The collected materials show that the detachment size ranged from 100 to 500 people, fluctuating under the influence of military circumstances. The popularity of M. Nikiforova was served by her own actions aiming to make her name known. The anarchist deliberately brought about a bloody phase of social conflict, establishing the practice of requisitions and "unmotivated" executions. In September–October 1917, she contributed to radicalization of another anarchist, N. I. Makhno. Her detachment was formed in November 1917 in Aleksandrovsk, Yekaterinoslav gubernia. In December 1917, it took part in battles with the Haidamaks. In February 1918, during the demobilization of the old army, Marusya's detachment moved to strengthen the front. In Yelisavetgrad, Kherson gubernia, Nikiforova proceeded with requisitions, provoking street battles with the city's Red Guard and self-defense units. Her allies were reserve detachment of the army of the Ukrainian People's Republic of Soviets under the command of A. M. Belenkevich and the Red Guard detachment of Yekaterinoslav workers. She retreated under the Austro-German troops' pressure together with the Bolshevik—Left SRs—anarchist detachments following the railway line of Yelisavetgrad—Krivoy Rog (Dolgintsevo)—Melitopol—Taganrog—Novocherkassk. Clashes with enemy units were unfortunate for Nikiforova. Her detachment was losing numbers and military equipment. Combat successes were insignificant. Marusya's detachment arrived at Tsaritsyn, bleeding and exhausted. It did not participate in the robbery of the "golden" echelon of the Don Council of People's Commissars. Unlike commanders of other detachments, who retreated from the territory of Ukraine, Maria Nikiforova did not fight as part of the Red Army. Nikiforova's name became an element of mass consciousness in the days of the revolution. The legendary veil encourages exaggeration of her role in the military events. She had a direct, albeit short-term, impact on expanding of the boundaries of the "permissible" in an internal armed conflict in Russia.

Keywords

Civil War in Russia, 1917–18, Marusya Nikiforova, A. V. Mokrousov, anarchist detachments, Austro-German occupation.

Download the article: morozova doi

References

BELENKIN, B. I., LEONT'EV, Ya. V. "Chernaya ten' revolyutsii" (atamansha Marusya Nikiforova) ["The Black Shadow of the Revolution" (Ataman Marusya Nikiforova). In Russ.]. IN: Otechestvennaya istoriya, 2002, no. 4, pp. 169–178.

CHOP, V. M. Marusya Nikiforova. [Marusya Nikiforova. In Russ.]. Zaporozhe, Tandem–U publ., 1998, 68 p.

ERMAKOV, V. D. "Marusya": portret anarkhistki ["Marusya": A portrait of an anarchist. In Russ.]. IN: Sotsiologicheskie issledovaniya, 1991, no. 3, pp. 91–96.

ERMAKOV, V. D. Anarkhisty na frontakh Grazhdanskoi voyny 1917–1922 godov [Anarchists on the fronts of the Civil War of 1917–22. In Russ.]. St. Petersburg, SPbGIK publ., 2018, 271 p.

LEONT'EV, Ya. V., RUBLEV, D. I. Marusya Nikiforova pered Revtribunalom: istoriya odnogo pokazatel'nogo protsessa [Marusya Nikiforova before the Revolutionary Tribunal: A story of a show trial. In Russ.]. IN: "Atamanshhina" i "partizanshhina" v Grazhdanskoi voine. ideologiya, voennoe uchastie, kadry. Sbornik statei i materialov [POSADSKII, A. V. (ed.). Atamans and partisans in the Civil War, ideology, military actions, personnel: Collected articles and materials]. Moscow, AIRO–XXI publ., 2015, pp. 40–60.

SAVCHENKO, V. A. Avantyuristy grazhdanskoi voyny: Istoricheskoe rassledovanie [Adventurers of the Civil War: A Historical Inquiry. In Russ.]. Kharkiv, Folio publ., Moscow, AST publ., 2000, 368 p.

ARCHIBALD, M. Atamansha: The Story of Maria Nikiforova, the Anarchist Joan of Arc. Dublin, 2007, 52 p.

About the authors

Morozova Olga Mikhailovna, PhD in History, associate professor, Don State Technical University, faculty of media communications и multimedia technology, department of public relations, professor, Rostov-on-Don, Russian Federation, +7-928-154-02-94, olgafrost@gmail.com

Submitted 3.08.2021, published (for citation)

MOROZOVA, O. M. Vo glave chernoznamennogo voiska: Marusya Nikiforova v 1917-1918 gg. [At the Head of the Black Banner Army: Marusya Nikiforova in 1917–18. In Russ.]. IN: Vestnik arhivista / Herald of an Archivist, 2022, no. 1, pp. 164-185. doi 10.28995/2073-0101-2022-1-164-185

You can read completely article in the russian historic-archival magazine “The Herald of an Archivist”. Read more about terms of subscription here .

Полностью материал публикуется в российском историко-архивоведческом журнале ВЕСТНИК АРХИВИСТА. Ознакомьтесь с условиями подписки здесь .