

The monograph about welfare of Russian people in 1701–1915th

Written by Bocharova Z.S.
Thursday, 02 July 2020 16:25

Bocharova Z.S.

The monograph about welfare of Russian people in 1701–1915th

Annotation

B.N. Mironov's monograph «The standard of living and revolutions in imperial Russia: The 18th – early 20th centuries» represents the world's first study of historical anthropometrics in Russia. Its principal goal is to assess the wellbeing of Russians as this developed during the imperial period. The received results give strong reasons for revision of the views about wellbeing, internal policy and efficiency of the Russian reforms.

The monograph about welfare of Russian people in 1701–1915th

Written by Bocharova Z.S.
Thursday, 02 July 2020 16:25

Keywords

Historical anthropometrics, biology status of person, Russia in the 18th–early 20th centuries, a standard of living, the Russian revolutions of early 20th century

Download the article: pdf

Bocharova Zoya Sergeevna - professor of the Institute for Retraining and Further Training of Teachers of Humanities and Social Sciences of the M.V. Lomonosov's Moscow State University, PhD in history, Moscow; 8-916-019-99-73; zsbotcharova@mail.ru

You can read completely article in the russian historic-archival magazine “The Herald of an Archivist”. Read more about terms of subscription here .

Полностью материал публикуется в российском историко-архивоведческом журнале ВЕСТНИК АРХИВИСТА. Ознакомьтесь с условиями подписки здесь .