

Lomonosov and Russian Enlightenment

Written by Ryjenkov M.R.

Thursday, 12 November 2020 17:11

Ryjenkov M.R.

Lomonosov and Russian Enlightenment

Annotation

The article is devoted to the great Russian scientist-encyclopaedist Michael Vasilevich Lomonosov, the founder of the Moscow university. Research of the sources allowing comprehensively to recreate an image of the scientist as the person and the historical figure, the author aspires to the objective analysis and an estimation of the contribution of M.V. Lomonosov in development of Russian Enlightenment.

Ломоносовъ М.В. Собрание разныхъ сочинений в стихахъ и в прозе. М., 1778. Библ. Маз. № 1282. Вестник архивиста. 2012. № 1.

Keywords

M.V. Lomonosov, source, Academy of Sciences, G.F. Miller, A.L. Shlecer, historiography, Norman theory, Voltaire, A.P. Sumarokov, V.K. Trediakovsky

Download the article: pdf

About author

Ryjenkov Mikhail Rafailovich - Director of the Russian State Archive of Ancient Acts (RGADA), Ph.D. in History, Moscow; 8-499-246-50-91; rgada@mail.ru

You can read completely article in the russian historic-archival magazine “The Herald of an Archivist”. Read more about terms of subscription here .

Полностью материал публикуется в российском историко-архивоведческом журнале ВЕСТНИК АРХИВИСТА. Ознакомьтесь с условиями подписки здесь .