

Vysokov M.S.

History of the telecommunications in the Russian Empire origin and development: the source study aspect

Annotation

The author presents the complex of sources, which formed the basis of research on the history of the Telecommunications in Russia in the 19th – early 20th centuries. The special attention is paid to the characteristics of archival and museum collections, analysis of the Russian legislation, acts, record keeping and statistical materials, periodicals, and sources of personal origin.

Keywords

Russian Empire, history, telecommunications, historical sources, archives, museums

Download the article: pdf

About the authors

Vysokov Mikhail Stanislavovich - senior researcher of the All-Russian Research Institute of Documentation and Archiving (VNIIDAD), PhD in History, associate professor, Moscow; 8–499–135-32-23; vysokov2000@yandex.ru

You can read completely article in the russian historic-archival magazine “The Herald of an Archivist”. Read more about terms of subscription here .

Полностью материал публикуется в российском историко-архивоведческом журнале ВЕСТНИК АРХИВИСТА. Ознакомьтесь с условиями подписки здесь .