

Eliseeva N.V.

Letters of the Soviet citizens in mass media as the source on studying of global transformation of the Soviet Union and Russia at the end of 1980th – the beginning of the 1990th. On the documents of the Moscow Central archive of social movements

Annotation

In the article the type of a mass source is analyzed - letters of the Soviet citizens in mass media in critical years of the Soviet Union and modern Russia existence which contain a big information resource for studying of public, political, social and cultural life of society that allows to involve them in a scientific turn, to develop analysis techniques, to use them on different historical plots.

Written by Eliseeva N.V.

Thursday, 03 November 2022 00:00

Keywords

Mass historical source, public consciousness, daily occurrence history, social environment, anthropological history, social psychology, epistolary source, reorganization, historical consciousness, CAODM

Download the article: pdf

About the authors

Eliseeva Natalya Viktorovna – head of the educational and scientific center “New Russia. History of Post-Soviet Russia” of the Historical and Archival Institute of the Russian State University for the Humanities, PhD in History, professor, Moscow; nvelyseefa@yandex.ru

You can read completely article in the russian historic-archival magazine “The Herald of an Archivist”. Read more about terms of subscription here .

Полностью материал публикуется в российском историко-архивоведческом журнале ВЕСТНИК АРХИВИСТА. Ознакомьтесь с условиями подписки здесь .

Written by Eliseeva N.V.

Thursday, 03 November 2022 00:00
