

Usachev A.S.

Metropolitan Athanasy and Psaltir of 1568

Annotation

In article the question of participation of metropolitan Athanasy (1564—1566) in Psaltiri's edition of 1568 is considered. Is established that he together with the tsar no later than May, 1566 enjoined to create printing house, but he had no relation direct to the edition of the book. It was published at the age of the metropolitan Kirill (1568—1572). Article is based on a material of epilog to the first Russian printed books, chronicles and other sources

Фронтиспис Псалтири 1568 г.
Вестник архивиста. 2013. № 3.

Keywords

Sources, book culture, old printing book, source study, textual criticism, Church history, Russian history, 16th century, metropolitan Athanasy

Download the article: pdf

About the authors

Usachev Andrey Sergeevich - professor of the department of History and Theory of Historical Science of the Faculty of History, Political Science and Law of the Institute for History and Archives of the Russian State University for the Humanities, PhD in History, Moscow; 8-917-540-43-79; asuuas1@mail.ru

You can read completely article in the russian historic-archival magazine “The Herald of an Archivist”. Read more about terms of subscription here .

Полностью материал публикуется в российском историко-архивоведческом журнале ВЕСТНИК АРХИВИСТА. Ознакомьтесь с условиями подписки здесь .

